HAVEN

Supporting individuals, families and carers affected by life limiting illness and bereavement.

we are here for you

We know that a diagnosis of a life-limiting illness such as cancer, dementia or Parkinson's can be a traumatic and life changing event. Our specialist team of Nurses, Co-ordinators and Wellbeing practitioners can provide one-to-one support, small groups and resources to help you.

We support individuals, carers, children, young people and families to manage the emotional distress of illness and to live life well - facing the future together.

We are here for you throughout every stage of illness: from diagnosis; during and after treatment; and at end of life, including bereavement support for families.
